FEAR SENATE RECEPTION IS WILL NOT HELP AWAITING ENVOY

Anti-Salooners See the Finish of Local Option Bill.

Members of the Anti-Saloon League are afraid of what the Senate will do to their local option bill in the coming session. They are satisfied that the House will be favorable, and know that the country generally is predisposed in favor of a local option measure, but there is head-shaking when the complexion of the Senate is sized up.

At least there was head-shaking yesterday, Lyle Dickey speaking sorrowfully of the prospect and having his sorrow confirmed by his father, C. H. Dickey. This was just before the Anti-Saloon League executive committee went into executive session yesterday at the rooms of the Hawaii Board for the purpose of hearing the annual report of their attorney, A. L. C. Atkinson.

With three liquor men elected to the Senate from this island, I must say I am afraid for the fate of our local option bill," said Lyle Dickey. "The House is all right, but the Senate defeated it before, and I think will do so again. The work of the Anti-Saloon League lately has been to work up a sentiment in favor of local option. We have the sympathy of the people with us, but that Senate!" Then there was further shakings of the head.

"If we could put it to a vote of the people, we would carry the bill easily," he added.

"Only we haven't got as far as the referendum in this country," supplemented Mr. Dickey, Senior.

"Do you consider Sunday Quinn a liquor man?" they were asked.

"Well, he was elected by the liquor men," said Dickey, Junior.

"And he's a jolly good fellow," said Dickey, Senior, with an air of finality.

Then Jack Atkinson arrived with his report in an inside pocket, and the representative of the press was invited to get out in a very kindly way though Mr. Atkinson was asked if a copy of his report might be had to give the public. There was nothing doing.

"I am not manager of the Anti-Saloon League," Mr. Atkinson explained.

"What relations I have with the members is that of lawyer and client, and my report is confidential. I will not read it if there is to be a reporter at the meeting."

"We will probably have a very free discussion of things and people," said Mr. Dickey, Junior, "and if what we said was published it might hurt some people's feelings."

There were present at the meeting Messrs. Dickey, Senior and Junior, A. L. C. Atkinson, Dr. Seudder and Theodore Richards.

GOVERNOR FREAR'S PROCLAMATION

Governor Frear is at work on his Thanksgiving Day proclamation. It will probably be issued today. In any event, it will be issued before Governor Frear leaves for the Coast.

The Governor may not leave on the Mongolia. His plans now are to leave on the transport Crook, which is scheduled to arrive here on Monday.

THE AMERICANS IN AMOY.

AMOY, November 1.—Two thousand men of the second squadron of the American fleet were allowed to land today, and were served at the reception grounds with a European luncheon and a Chinese dinner. The men, however, are showing great disappointment because they are not permitted to leave the grounds, restrictions having been placed upon them because the authorities do not believe that the city is yet free from cholera and plague. Admiral Sab of the Chinese navy today gave a luncheon in honor of Rear Admiral Emory and the fleet commanders.

KLUEGEL TO MAUI.

Assistant Superintendent of Public Works Kluegel goes to Haiku shortly to lay out roads through the pineapple lands recently acquired by the government in exchange for the land of Omaoipio.

Taxes will not be received on the morning of November 16 without the penalty.

Chinese Excellency and Prince to Arrive Tomorrow.

Plans for the reception of His Excellency Tang Shao-yi and His Highness Prince Tsai Fu on their arrival here on the Mongolia, have now been completed.

The Mongolia is expected to arrive early Saturday morning. At the wharf to meet them and act as an escort will be two companies of the Twentieth Infantry, U. S. A., from Fort Shafter detailed by Captain Exton, who is in command of Fort Shafter in Major Dunning's absence; and by two companies of the National Guard of Hawaii detailed by Colonel Ziegler.

Secretary of the Territory E. A. Mott-Smith representing the government of the Territory will meet His Excellency and His Highness and will accompany them in an automobile, under the escort of the four companies of troops to the Capitol, where the eminent visitors will call on Governor Frear.

From the Capitol still escorted by the troops, the distinguished foreigners will proceed to the Chinese Consulate on Sheridan street. There the duty of the escort will end.

Governor Frear accompanied by his staff will call on them at the Chinese Consulate.

Prince Tsai Fu being of Imperial blood will be given a salute of twenty-one guns from the Naval Station as the Mongolia arrives in the harbor. As he reaches the Capitol grounds a salute of twenty-one guns will be given him there.

Following Governor Frear's call, His Excellency and His Highness will be shown about the city by the Chinese Consul. They will be taken to the Aquarium, and perhaps to the Pali. At two o'clock they will be the guests of the Chinese Consul at luncheon, at the Consulate.

At 7:30 o'clock they will be the guests at dinner of Mr. Tang Kau at his residence on Vineyard street, west of Nuuanu.

The Mongolia is expected to sail on Sunday morning. The Hawaiian band will probably be at the wharf to play them off. Two military men, an officer from the Twentieth Infantry, and an officer from the First Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii, will be detailed as aids to the visitors throughout their stay in Honolulu. Captain Thomas Cummins has been detailed as aid from the National Guard by Col. J. W. Jones.

RECOLLECTIONS OF ADMIRAL MILLER

Capt. John Ross was an old Civil War friend of the late Admiral Miller, and when the Admiral was here they spent much time together. "In 1862," said Capt. Ross yesterday, "the U. S. ironclad Sangamon, now the monitor Jason, was ordered to proceed to James river, Va., to the Washington Navy Yard to improve the ammunition hoisting arrangements of the turret. Lieut. Com. J. H. Miller relieved Lieut. Com. Henry Todd on that vessel and the command was taken over by Commodore John Rogers. I was navigator and turret officer, and as such made Miller's acquaintance. After getting through at Washington the Sangamon went to the Philadelphia Navy Yard and drydock, and then went in convoy of the U. S. S. Wachusett, Capt. Napoleon Collins, to Port Royal, S. C., to succeed the first monitor, which had been lost in a storm off Cape Hatteras. On reporting at Port Royal we were sent to join the ironclad division off Charleston. After some months Lieut. Commander Miller was relieved and ordered to command the Passaic. A few months later, after nearly a year's service on the Sangamon, I was also detached. Since those days I have not been entirely out of touch with the late Admiral."

It will cost you money to wait until Monday to pay your taxes.

SHRINERS ENTERTAIN PAST POTENTATE OF ISLAM

GEORGE FILMER, PAST POTENTATE OF ISLAM TEMPLE, WHO IS HERE AS THE GUEST OF ALOHA TEMPLE.

"You have a unique city here," said George Filmer, Past Potentate of Islam Temple, San Francisco, who is here as the guest of Aloha Temple, for its ceremonial session next Saturday.

"I have had some experience with cities in tropical countries. But you have a city here within the tropics which is entirely without the features which are a drawback to most cities so situated. You have a climate that is superb. A situation that is healthful and beautiful, and a city that is well built, well kept and well cared for."

Mr. Filmer was in Honolulu ten years ago, going through to the Philippines on the City of Peking, then being used as a transport, as Captain of Company B, First California Volunteer Infantry. The regiment was in port two days and Captain Filmer recalls with great pleasure the entertainment and hospitality extended to the men of the regiment. The regiment took part in the capture of Manila and after several months' service in and around Manila was sent to occupy the Island of Negros, in the southern part of the archipelago, where it remained for seven or eight months.

"But it seems to me that your city has greatly changed since then," he said yesterday. "There are a number (Continued on Page Two.)"

Planters End Their Labor With Banquet and Drama

With a record crop to celebrate, a record number of banqueters and a record menu to discuss, the banquet of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association held last night, to wind up the twenty-eighth meeting of the members, was itself a record event. Ninety banqueters gathered about the ten flower-bedecked tables, set beneath draped fern wreaths, in the lounge-room of the Alexander Young Hotel, the affair being one of the most enjoyable functions ever given by the planters.

The lounge-room had been skillfully transformed into a banquet hall, the decorations being elaborate and effective. Each table had a centerpiece of roses, potted ferns were placed around the dais on each side of the hall, sugar cane and banana palms were worked into the decorative scheme to good effect, while one huge flaming poinsetta flared against a background of green in the alcove. The decorations were planned and overseen by Mrs. R. D. Mead, whose skill was greatly praised by those who enjoyed the benefit of it.

President S. M. Damon occupied the head seat in the banquet hall, with him at the head table being Governor Frear, S. B. Dole, F. H. Newell, C. C. Kennedy, A. Lidgate, Noel Deerr and F. M. Swauzy. The other guests were George W. Smith, J. F. Haekfeld, George C. Watt, J. A. Wilder, F. R. Werthmueller, R. S. Norris, E. E. Paxton, George F. Renton, R. D. Larsen, George C. Potter, W. P. Roth, J. D. Kennedy, George C. Fuller, H. Castle, A. Ludeox, W. H. Babbitt, Mr. Webb, H. Dillingham, R. D. Mead, R. Wright, C. Kimball, Alex. Lindsay, A. L. Castle, E. D. Tenney, John Watt, E. R. Stackable, J. A. Kennedy, C. B. Wells, E. V. Wilcox, C. H. Cooke, L. Tenney Peck, F. A. Schaefer, F. Weber, W. C. Parke, S. S. Peck, J. N. S. Williams, J. H. Mackenzie, G. H. Tuttle, W. Pullar, G. P. Davies, George Ross, H. L. Lyon, C. P. Hart, R. Hall, R. S. Hosmer, F. T. Dillingham, John Hind, W. L. Hopper, George Gibb, J. H. Wall, E. G. Clark, T. H. Petrie, R. W. Shingle, A. W. T. Bottomley, J. M. Ross, John Fassoth, L. Lewton-Brain, J. F. C. Hagens, W. R. Pofter, M. J. Lindsay, E. Worthington, E. H. Wodehouse, E. A. Mott-Smith, K. S. Gjerdrum, J. M. Waldron, Arthur Wight, H. M. Whitney, W. H. C. Campbell and George Chambers.

The menu cards were unique, representing sewed sugar bags, on the front, in addition to the monogram of the association, being the magic words, "Record Crop, 521,123 Tons." The menu-place cards were designed and drawn by W. R. Potter of the Experiment Station staff, on suggestions from R. D. Mead. The inner pages contained views typifying the advances made in the sugar industry in Hawaii, the old stone-crushers being contrasted with a modern nine-rolled plant, and ox-teams, hauling cane, and a plantation train in full steam showing the methods of early and present transportation. On the back of the menu card were sugar mills of the then and now.

In addition to the menu, the cards also contained the announcement of a problem play, "On Tongatabu," to be given by the Young Men's Penant and Persimmon Society. The menu was prepared in Chef Louis Disteli's best style, as follows:

- Canape Moussett
 - Mission Olives
 - Salted Pecans
 - Celery
 - Blue Points, Boucicault
 - Essence of Chicken a la Reine
 - Turban of Royal Kuma a la Turque
 - Pommes Risselles
 - Sliced Cucumbers
 - Frogs' Legs a la Conti
 - Flageolet's Francaise
 - Grenadines of Beef Tenderloin
 - Rochebambon
 - Cepes Saute aux Fine Herbs
 - Dolgoronski Punch
 - Roast Homer Squabs, Sauce Colbert
 - Parisienne Potatoes
